Hundreds dance their way to heart health at AtlantiCare event

More than 375 people danced their way to heart health at AtlantiCare Women's Health & Wellness's fourth annual "Day of Dance for Health" Saturday, February 23 at the Dr. Joyanne D. Miller School, Egg Harbor Township, New Jersey.

AtlantiCare joined hospitals and health networks across the nation in observing Day of Dance, a Spirit of Women Health Network initiative. The event promoted music and dance as exercise for a healthy heart. The event included free health screenings, dance performances and dance demonstrations representing various cultures and forms of dance. Day of Dance is one of several events AtlantiCare held in February, to mark American Heart Month.
