Current Tides and Future Waves in Nursing Practice is designed to enhance the registered nurse and advanced practice nurse's knowledge in the areas of pharmacology, infectious disease, and disease specific care. Our speakers, national experts within their field, are delighted to share current evidence-based guidelines and exciting new therapies. The premier ocean front backdrop provides a relaxing atmosphere conducive for learning and perfect for professional networking with colleagues from around the region. Our ultimate goal is to positively impact patient outcomes through application of new knowledge and shared best practices.
