

INSTITUTIONAL COMMITMENT TO GRADUATE MEDICAL EDUCATION

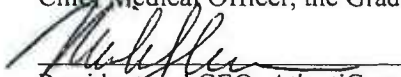

AtlantiCare Regional Medical Center is dedicated to the education of health care professionals and providers. Graduate medical education programs play an integral part in the ability of AtlantiCare to meet and further its mission, vision and values.

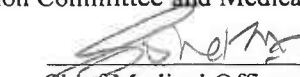

AtlantiCare Regional Medical Center is committed to providing trainees with the highest quality medical education. As a community-based teaching hospital, ARMC's medical education programs encourage coordinated health care delivery across the continuum, emphasizing health information and health engagement in the community. ARMC recognizes and is committed to the well-being of its trainees and faculty by providing opportunities to mitigate burn-out and fatigue. ARMC maintains high quality and distinction through its performance excellence commitments which are carried into its medical education programs.

By maintaining a continuous improvement cycle as an organization, ARMC ensures compliance with the ACGME's Institutional and Program Requirements for graduate medical education.

AtlantiCare Regional Medical Center agrees to provide the necessary educational, financial and human resources to support all graduate medical education programs. The teaching faculty are committed to providing quality training that complies with the ACGME training requirements to include all elements of a competency based experience.

This statement of commitment is upheld by ARHS Board of Directors, Chief Executive Officer, Chief Medical Officer, the Graduate Medical Education Committee and Medical Staff.
